Stop by the table at November's meeting and check out what's new or interesting.

Fall is here and the weather is beautiful!!! Watching the leaves change with the fabulous colors is always an amazing show and inspiration.

Another amazing exhibition is the Member's Show now hanging at the Sahara West Library. A big thank you goes out of Sylvia Bachiochi, Dave Mazur, Barrie Folsom, and Louise Gillespie for all their help doing the hours of behind the scenes work support the exhibition. Also, thanks to the Library District for their support and sharing our enthusiasm with the public.

Now, it is time to look forward in giving back to the community. We're doing just that at November's meeting where we'll create ornament masterpieces. The ornaments will be donated to the Mesquite Club for their Holiday sale that benefits local charities. Please join us and get into the Holiday spirit.

Also at the November meeting, my husband will be available to photograph paintings for entry into the Western Federation of Watercolor Societies.

With that, I hope that you are painting with wild abandon...

Create a unique holiday ornament.

3 1/2" plastic balls will be supplied, they open and can be painted, filled, or collaged inside and out.

Bring:

Acrylic paints

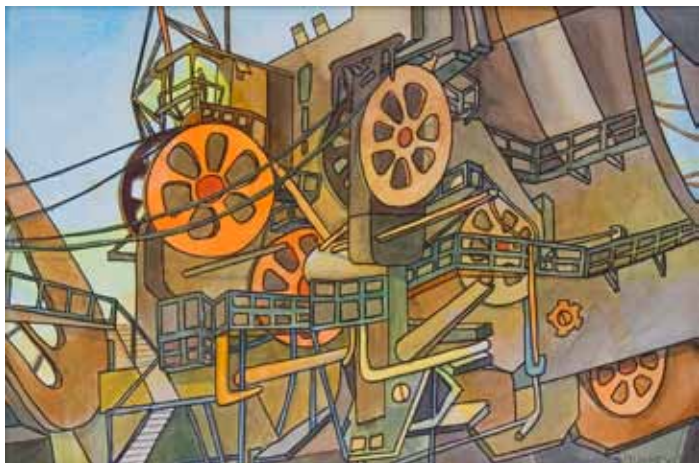

Markers

Plastic table cloth

Anything you might like to fill the balls or glue onto the balls

Aileen Dike

The Arts Community of Southern Nevada and the Nevada Watercolor Society lost a valued member last month – Aileen Dike. She was a signature member of the Nevada Watercolor Society and an active member of the Boulder City Art Guild and the City Lights Gallery in Henderson.

Aileen was an accomplished landscape and wildlife artist. Her love of the arts was evident in what she accomplished and how she lived. We will miss her.

A message from Nita Leland to Sharon "Thanks for having me for the workshop. It was truly a pleasure working with your Nevada Watercolor Society artists. They really applied themselves and I think the results will be apparent when they've had more time to absorb what they've learned. There are some very good artists in the group and many with great potential. I wish the best for all of you. Keep in touch!"
